Miss Minnida Lyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lyle of W. Mound-st., is a patient in Hillsboro hospital suffering from serious internal injuries sustained late Saturday when her abdomen was pierced by the emergency brake in the automobile driven by Bernard Goeller, S. Court-st.

The accident occurred south of Bainbridge at 11 p. m. While Miss Lyle's condition is said to be serious a report from the Hillsboro hospital Monday morning stated that she is showing improvement.

THROWN FORWARD

The accident happened, it is reported, when a truck stopped abruptly on the road in front of the car driven by Mr. Goeller. In order to evade collision he pulled back the emergency brake and the force of the sudden stop threw Miss Lyle forward in the car, the brake piercing her body. The car was thrown into the ditch by the sudden stop but was not damaged. Mr. Goeller and Miss Margaret Smith, 433 S. Court-st., riding with Miss Lyle, both escaped injury.

Miss Lyle was hurried into Hillsboro where she was taken to the hospital.

COLLIDE IN SOUTH END

Two Ford sedans, one driven north on S. Court-st. and another coming onto Court-st. from Walnut-st., collided at the corner of Walnut and Court-sts. early Monday. The name of neither of the drivers could be learned. One of the cars coming onto Court-st. made a short turn and crashed into the side of the other car. No damage was reported to either car.

SKIDS, TURNS OVER

L. E. Stevens, of Delaware, and a Chillicothe youth riding in the car with him, escaped serious injury late Saturday afternoon when Mr. Stevens, driving a Durant sedan, in an attempt to get out of the path of an oncoming runaway team of horses turned his car over about seven miles south of Circleville.

Mr. Stevens and his passenger were driving toward Circleville, when they noticed the runaway team coming toward them. The road was slippery and when Stevens applied the brakes his car skidded.

Neither of the occupants of the car was injured but the car was badly damaged, and brought to the Circleville Motors garage for repairs.

HIT AT CORNER

No one was injured when the Ford sedan driven by William Heeter, Town-st. and a car driven by a stranger collided at Mound and Scioto-sts. The cars locked fenders and the crash was heard for several blocks but neither car was damaged.

BOY PUTS LIFE BEFORE COURT

A SERIOUS SITUATION (An Editorial.)

The people of Circleville awakened Sunday morning and found no water supply. No water for breakfast, no water for coffee, and even no water for the morning bath. Every one's first thought, no doubt, was "What's the Trouble," for they did not receive any advance notice that the water would be shut off. And we don't blame them for being angry during such a situation.

The source of the trouble was caused by a break in a main, that brings water to Circleville from the Pump Station. This is the only line carrying water to the city. The Water Company knew this work was necessary and knew that they would be compelled to shut off the city water supply. If they expect to give the city good service, why didn't they inform the citizens what to expect so that they could have at least made some preparation. Workmen had been busy since Friday trying to repair the main.

The situation is really more serious than one may think and would have been disastrous if a fire had broken out while the water supply was off. Just imagine a fire in the business district, and that's possible, and not a drop of water. Wouldn't there have been a big loss to pay? And who would pay it, The Water Co.? No, the people who are helping pay for water service and not getting all they are paying for.

With the Water Co. asking for a higher rate to better serve the City, we believe that the Citizens and City Council should see that the supply pipes leading to Circleville should be adequate and in proper condition so that the City shall NEVER be without water, like it was Sunday, and hold the Water Co. responsible for continuous service.

Crites' Damage Trial Resumed

The damage suit trial of H. M. Crites, S. Court-st., against the Standard Oil Co. for $25,000 damage for an alleged violation of a contract which temporarily ended Wednesday, July 22, was resumed, in common pleas court Monday, at 10:30 a. m. before Judge J. W. Adkins.

In an opening statement Maurice Hanning, attorney for the Standard Oil Co. stated that the defense would call two more witnesses in the case. He also read a motion which the defense filed in which the plaintiffs were asked to base their claim on either a breach of contract or fraud. Thus far both theories have been used, and according to Mr. Hanning are inconsistent. Most of Monday morning's session heard attorneys for plaintiff and defense arguing this motion.

The motion also asked that all statements about fraud be stricken from the record. At the closing of the morning session Judge Adkins had not passed on the motion. Monday afternoon's session was comprised of taking testimony. Three defense witnesses were expected to be cross-examined by the plaintiff's attorney. C. H. Wilson, district supervisor of the Standard Oil Co., Columbus, Floyd Aldire, Mt. Sterling, field representative and John Thomas, local bulk station manager were expected to be examined. Two other defense witnesses were also expected to be called.

C. A. Leist of this city and T. J. Abernethy of Columbus are attorneys for the plaintiff and Maurice Hanning, J. T. Newcomer of the law firm of Holliday, Grossman and McAfee of Cleveland, and Richard Simkins, this city represent the Standard Oil Co.

CITY WITHOUT WATER SUPPLY EARLY SUNDAY

Lead Join in 16-Inch Main West of River Breaks, Causes Disruption OBSERVED FRIDAY

Some Homes Without Water for Nine Hours

Water service in Circleville was disrupted shortly after midnight Saturday until Sunday at 9:30 a. m. while workmen were repairing a broken lead joint in one of the two 16-inch mains that cross the Scioto River in Jackson-twp. Employees of the Water Service Co., which supplies this city, observed a leak in this pipe Friday and at once it became apparent that service must be shut off long enough to make the repair.

After due deliberation it was decided not to discontinue services while factories, barber shops, and other places of business which depend on the water supply for operation, were doing business. Harry Denman, superintendent of the water company, decided that Saturday at midnight would be the most advantageous time to disrupt the service. It was expected the leak could be repaired and water turned on by 5 a. m. but longer time was required to repair the leak than was bargained for, and the service was not renewed until 9:30. A number of residences were without water service from midnight while others were not shut off completely until about 4 a. m.

While there are two lines running across the river, the one which blew out was the "dead" line, that is the Y where the two river lines converge into the main line leading into the pumping station. It was necessary to completely cut off the city service because of the back pressure from the city. The point at which these lines separate to cross the Scioto is considerably lower than at any other point on the line, thus a tremendous amount of back pressure.

SCIOTO SCHOOL CONTEST IS ON

Ouster Proceedings Against Five Members of Board To Go To High Court.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 3.—Scioto-co's school fight reached the supreme court today when ouster proceedings were started against five former members of the Wheelersburg rural district who allegedly have refused to give up their offices.

Charging that George Preston, William Groh, John B. Lee, Fred Bihl and Fred Bihl are acting as members of the "newly-created" Wheelersburg district "without any authority," Scioto-co Prosecutor Cameron Meacham, filed a petition against them.

A temporary order restraining them from acting further in the capacity was granted.

A statement from Attorney William J. Meyer, representing the old board, was received at the court at the same time. It requested that no restraining order be allowed at this time.

HERNDON, PANGBORN PREPARE TO CROSS DANGEROUS BERING

Peach and Oranges

We don't know for sure whether peaches and oranges go well together in all cases, but in this particular instance there's no doubt about it. Pretty Geraldine Wood (above) is the luscious peach who has been selected to represent Southern California's orange crop in the Court of Agriculture, which will be a feature of the Los Angeles County Fair in September.

REPORT EDISON STILL SERIOUS

Famous Inventor Said To Be Resting Comfortably, Though in Danger.

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 3.—Thomas A. Edison, noted 84-year-old inventor, who is ill at his home here was sufficiently recovered today to walk from his bedroom and read the newspaper.

However a bulletin, issued by his physician, stated that his condition was "no marked change" in his condition which has been regarded as serious.

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 3.—Thomas A. Edison, seriously ill at his home in Llewellyn Park, was reported as "resting comfortably" early today.

A bulletin issued shortly before midnight by his physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe, said:

"Mr. Edison has had a good day and is now retired and resting comfortably. His condition remains satisfactory and in all probability he will have a comfortable night."

Dr. Howe, however, said the aged inventor—he is 84—was in serious condition and only after weeks of care would he be able to return to work, if at all. He said Mr. Edison's condition was "very serious" but there was no immediate danger of death and that he might make a complete recovery. At the same time, Dr. Howe said he doubted that the inventor will "ever be out of danger."

He disclosed that the inventor's collapse Saturday was due to his curtailment of his diet to relieve a stomach disorder believed to be due to gastric ulcers. He also is suffering from Bright's disease and diabetes, but both these, he said, were under control.

Land at Kharbarovsk This Morning; Top Hop at Once, They Say

Lindbergh and Wife Perched for Hazardous Trip

TOKYO, Aug. 3.—Hugh Herndon and Clyde Pangborn, American round-the-world fliers, brought their red monoplane Miss Voodie down on the landing field at Kharbarovsk, Siberia, at 3:50 p. m. (1:50 a. m. Circleville time) today, according to a message from Kharbarovsk.

Kharbarovsk, on the Amur river, was the last scheduled stopping place in Asia for the world fliers. They had made the 1,000-mile flight from Chita, west of Lake Baikal to Kharbarovsk in 18 hours and 20 minutes, having hopped from Chita at 5:30 p. m., yesterday (10:30 a. m., Circleville time). In this time they flew over some of the wildest and most unhabitable territory of the world.

After a brief halt at Kharbarovsk for refueling the fliers planned to push on across the sea of Okotsk and Bering sea to Nome, Alaska, their next scheduled stop.

TEXANS ON WAY

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 3.—The Texan-manned monoplane "Fort Worth" nor its tri-motored "Bering" on its last leg of the non-stop flight from Seattle to Tokyo.

Although neither the "Fort Worth" nor its tri-motored "Bering" had been sighted since it was believed that the fliers had landed at Kharbarovsk, Alaska, where they were to have refueled before heading south of here and followed the southern shoreline for Norton Sound to the sea.

CHURCHILL, Man, Aug. 3

From this far northern outpost of civilization, only a little more than 500 miles south of the Arctic circle, Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were to hop off again today, taking up their long flight to the Orient.

Colonel Lindbergh brought his black and scarlet monoplane into the white-capped harbor last evening (6:50 p. m. Circleville time) after a 750 mile flight from Moose Factory, Ontario. They made the jump from Moose Factory in nine hours.

The tall blond American flier, refreshed by a long sleep, said this morning he planned to take off this forenoon for his next stopping place, Baker Lake, 300 miles north in Barren, desolate wasteland.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 3

The stay of Russell Boardman and John Polando, whose flight from New York to Istanbul established a new world's nonstop distance record, neared an end today, without the fliers making a definite announcement of their plans. They were still studying the route to Calcutta and other far eastern cities which they wish to visit before returning home.

The Massachusetts aviators were guests last night at a dinner in their honor given by Muhadin Bey, Governor of Istanbul. In the afternoon they attended a garden party at the American summer embassy at Yenikoe, by the gleaming Bosphorus, as the guests of Ambassador and Mrs. Grew. In the morning they laid a wreath at the base of the monument of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Ghazi or hero of modern Turkey, in Istanbul, amid the applause of thousands of patriotic Turks.

'ENEMY' LIST GONE

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Police today puzzled over what has become of the records of eighteen of Chicago's "public enemies"—provided, of course, that there were any such records.

Of the 28 "enemies" only ten are listed at the detective bureau, a survey showed. This fact elicited interest in another possible "missing persons" case.

LEGAL NEWS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman,
August 1, 1931

WOMEN NOTARIES WHO MARRY

A legal problem quite apart from estate and divorce laws has been occasioned by the age-old tendency of women to marry. This became apparent in an opinion given by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman to Governor George White. Notaries public are commissioned by the Governor of the state. The Governor asked how a notary public who is commissioned as a maid should sign officially when she has become a matron.

"Despite the growing feminist movement," Ohio laws are still moss-back enough to provide that a married woman's name is the name of her husband," General Bettman explained. "She has been commissioned before married as, shall we say, Mary Jones, but she has become legally Mary Brown. Her notary's commission has been registered with the county clerk of courts as Mary Jones. Confusion would result if she acted as notary to a deed after marriage as Mary Brown. So Mary must sign her name as notary public, 'Mary Brown nee Jones.'

MAY ALTER POWERS OF CORPORATION

Ohio corporations heretofore organized under general law with certain powers, may at any time have those powers taken away or altered by the Legislature. This was the gist of an opinion rendered by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman to Ray T. Miller, Cleveland, Prosecutor of Cuyahoga County. The question arose in connection with the Cuyahoga Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Pioneers Memorial Association, a corporation organized in 1923 under a general law then in force and effect authorizing such corporations to institute proceedings to submit to the electors the question of erecting a county memorial building. This law further authorized such corporations to acquire a site for such county building. In 1927, the Legislature repealed the sections of the law granting such powers to private corporations. The Cuyahoga County Memorial Association desired now to exercise the powers granted to it at the time of its organization upon the theory that a change in the law did not effect corporations previously organized.

In concluding that the association no longer could exercise the powers provided by the law under which it was organized, Attorney General Bettman pointed out in his opinion that the Ohio Constitution authorizes corporations to be formed under general laws, which general laws may from time to time be altered or repealed. It was further pointed out that the Ohio Constitution prohibits the granting of special privileges which may not be altered or repealed by the Legislature.

BONDS FOR UNION CEMETERY

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman has held that a municipality and a township may each issue bonds to pay their respective portions of the cost of constructing a building for cemetery purposes in a union cemetery, owned and managed by such village and township. Bonds for such purposes may be issued by a township only pursuant to the authority of the electors, the Attorney General held.

NEW PRINCIPLE OF LAW

A principle of law never before adjudicated in Ohio has been decided by the Franklin County Common Pleas Court in the case of the Lane Construction Company, of Cleveland vs. The Industrial Commission. The construction company brought suit to restrain the Industrial Commission from paying from the state insurance fund an additional award made in the cases where two men died and one was injured in the construction of an elevator shaft. The Commission holding that the company had violated a sufficient potential strength. The company also sought to enjoin the commission from collecting the additional premiums, and from cancelling its protection under the Workmen's Compensation Law, notwithstanding the fact that it had not paid the full amount of the premium, including that imposed by virtue of the additional award.

The court sustained the contention of Attorney General Gilbert Bettman and Assistant Attorney General, Rollin R. Zurnehly, that the claimant is not interested in the collection of the money from the employer, and is, therefore, entitled to have the same paid from the state insurance fund as soon as the award is made. The court also held that the company's regular premium and the penalty assessed by the commission merged into one and that neither was payable without the other.

DECISION NETS STATE NEARLY TWO MILLION

Two checks from power utilities received by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman bring the total received by the state by virtue of the East Ohio Gas case decision of May 18, to $1,876,935.95. Wheeling Electric Company and the Ohio Power Company, subsidiaries of the American Gas and Electric Company paid $25,606.88 and $448,295.97, respectively.

Explaining the application of the gas case to electrical energy, Gilbert Bettman said: "The payment by the power companies is particularly gratifying because it is a recognition by power companies of the applicability of this decision as well as to gas. In view of the constantly increasing modern use of electricity, this means continuously increasing annual revenues under Ohio's excise taxes and public utilities."

PUBLICATION OF PROCEEDINGS

Neither a party to execution proceedings nor an attorney representing a party has authority under the law to designate a newspaper in which notice of the time and place of sale shall be published, this power residing with the county sheriff and the court, Attorney General Gilbert Bettman has ruled.

Attendance records were smashed at the three district camps in Ohio for rural leaders this year. In July, 288 leaders attended the camps, while last year the total attendance was 233 leaders at Camp Ohio, Licking Co. Camp Crag, Medina Co. and the southwestern district camp in Greene Co.

PICKAWAY DAIRY MAKES GOLD BAR

Health authorities in Circleville and Pickaway Co. have realized the value of pure milk and butter and are making efforts to make these products still purer so as to prevent diseases among children. However, milk and butter from the Pickaway Dairy Company can be relied upon from all standpoints, including health.

Sanitary care in handling all milk and butter from this creamery is taken in an effort to reduce all possible chance of causing disease. Milk and butter are some of the most important foods of everyday life and should be healthy and pure. While it is one of the most vital necessities, it can also be one of the most important causes of outbreaks of various diseases.

Realizing all of these facts one of the big features of the Pickaway Dairy Company is its sanitary condition.

Probably the best known product distributed by the Pickaway Dairy Company, is GOLDBAR BUTTER which is perfectly pleasing and palatable, and every bite tests right. This butter is known throughout the state, having won several prizes at the Ohio State Fair, and in other country fairs in and about Pickaway Co.

This butter is offered at almost all groceries in Circleville, and has a very good name in Circleville, having many users and satisfied customers.

GOOD LINE OF TOOLS OFFERED

A store which carries a full line of Case-Osborn tillage tools is the one operated by Ralph Stir at 209 W. Main-st. Mr. Stir is a new comer to the city and asks that farmers and gardeners who desire good gardening tools at reasonable prices to come around and let him quote some prices on his bargains.

He carries a full line of binders, mowers, and hay tools, tractors, combines, threshers, hay balers, power binders and a full line of gardening tools including small plows, etc.

One of the main necessities in producing crops is to have the tools handy to help produce them and this is the reason Mr. Stir has taken the agency for Case-Osborn tools. From previous experience, he knows that these tools have proved themselves worthy of a good name and are known the country over for quality and endurance.

"There are not many good tools on the market nowadays, that are what they are cracked up to be, and therefore, one should be careful in selecting good tools to get the work wanted done in as less time as possible," says Mr. Stir.

The operator of this store is glad and accommodating at all times to demonstrate any of the above mentioned tools and all he asks is a visit to his place of business.

How can she be so stupid?

It is dumb stupidity for any woman to have bad breath. It offends others—ruins you socially. The worst of it is you, yourself, never know when you have it.
